Chef Guelila Fornetti was born and raised in Ethiopia and moved to Virginia at the age of 11. Ever since she was a little kid, she loved being in the kitchen with her mother and grandmother. When she changed her lifestyle and became vegan in 2008, the scarce restaurants and food options inspired her to learn how to recreate her favorite meals at home. While cooking has always been a passion of hers, she pursued a professional degree in Family Counseling; not yet realizing she would be able to make a career out of her "hobby". When she became a stay at home mother in 2011, she cooked 3-4 times a day; which inspired her to start her own Personal Chef business. Aside from being a Personal Chef, Chef Guelila has done numerous pop-up restaurants, cooked for retreats and worked on movie sets. She says the best part of her career is the positive feedback she receives from vegans and non vegans, as she negates the myth that vegan food is bland.

"Cook with quality ingredients & love, it truly makes a difference!"
